

Culture IV - November 22, 2009

Namaste Culture IV parents,

Last week we reviewed Geography of India basics. There will be no Balvihar next Sunday i.e. November 29, 2009. I handed the map of India to the students present. For your convenience I am attaching the same. Please print as needed. The homework is -

- Label the states on the map
- Label the neighbouring countries and water bodies on the map
- show the mountain ranges
- show the major rivers
- show the capital of India, major ports and airports in India
- show the places the you have visited

I have a request to all parents. Kids are taking long to adjust in the class and they keep talking amongst themselves. Please talk to your kids about this as I can not start teaching unless the kids are ready and attentive. I will have to go over the time. I am sure which will not be acceptable by all.

The parents who have been at Balvihar before, will remember that it is Culture class to perform at Annual Day. I am requesting parents to think about our performance at Annual Day and would like to get a response of what you think should be our performance. Additionally, I would like to get response from the volunteering parents for the annual day performance.

Additionally, I have been asked to find a parent representative for Culture IV. Please email me if you are interested.
