

Marathi Advanced Class Summary – Jan 24, 2010

Dear Marathi Advanced parents,

First of all wanted to congratulate all kids for doing excellent presentation about Sankrant. Job well done!

We are not going to have exam on Jan 31st, as we have missed classes due to snow and sankrant. We have it at later date.

Kids read a story about "Kabutar and Mungi" from the handout. Some are still having difficulty reading some letters, please review the basic letters and barakhadi at home.

Homework is read a story again at home and to answers at the end of story in the hand out. Those who were not present can write any short story(about 10-12 lines) in Marathi.

We continued with conversational Marathi. We acted out strangers asking about directions, saying hello, etc. I gave hand out about common conversational questions, and terms. Homework is to read that handout. We will have more conversation on similar topics next week.
